

K-9 Teams for the Private Sector:

A Long Island K-9 Company is Providing Canine Teams Experienced in Liquid Explosives Detection

Officer James Greco, a law enforcement officer and founder of Long Island K-9 Service (www.lik-9.com), is reaching out to many major airlines and providing law enforcement explosive detection canine teams to all airlines to detect the new (liquid) scents of explosives that were utilized by terrorists in their recent attempt to blow up airplanes while in flight. Long Island K-9 is the first company to provide these specialized dogs to the private industry.

Long Island K-9 Service is the largest K-9 training facility on Long Island, New York. "We have a state of the art training facility... ..for the intense training of canines and handlers in the field of explosives/narcotics detection and personal protection," says Greco. "We have sparked interest and have been visited in the past by Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), major airlines, Fortune 500 companies, Private Security Companies, interviewed by Good Morning America, Japanese Television, Inside Edition, New York News Channel 4, The New York Times and 880 CBS News Radio."

This company holds licenses from the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) to possess narcotics and the State of New York to possess high explosives for the training of detection canines. They are members of the United States Police Canine Association (USPCA), and the International Association of Bomb Technicians and Investigators. To view Long Island K-9's segment on Good Morning America regarding the most recent terrorist bomb plot, visit the following link www.abcnews.go.com/VideoplayerIndex?id=2300734.

James Greco, Pres. of LI Security Consultants & LIK-9 Service, is to the left of Mayor Giuliani with LISC / LIK-9's security staff. Providing explosive sweep/personal security for celebrities at an AMA event at Diamond Ranch, in the Hamptons.

YOUR TSCM TEAM

MURRAY ASSOCIATES
Eavesdropping Detection and Counterespionage Consulting for Business and Government

www.spybusters.com
908-832-7900

FREE PI income booster...
www.spybusters.com/pi_info.html

PI